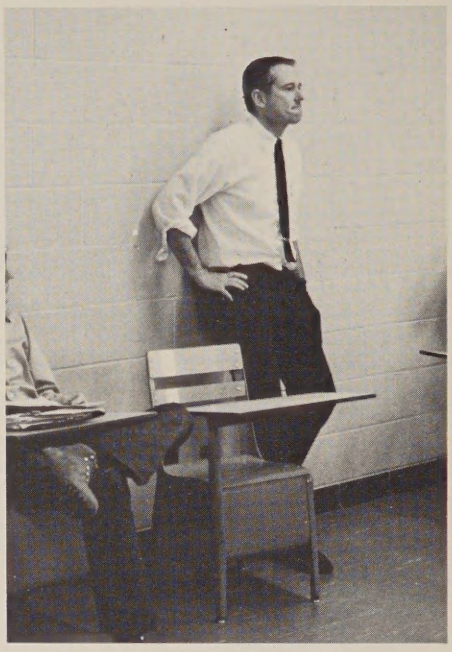
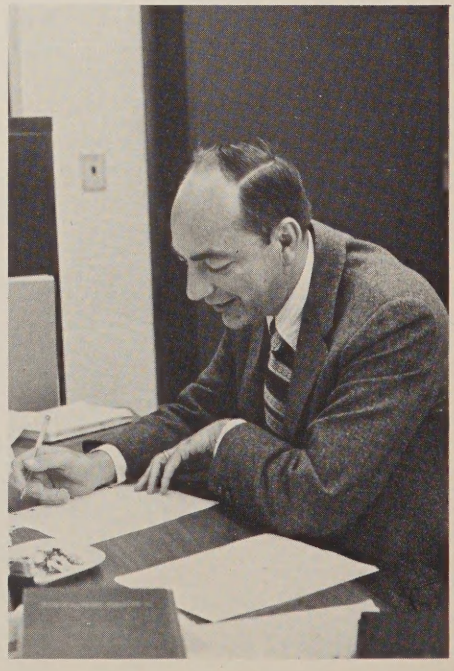
DEDICATION



At the end of this somewhat special year, we dedicate this edition of the Weathervane to two very special teachers, Mr. Joseph Coolidge and Mr. Quinn McCord. As they are both unfortunately leaving Maumee Valley next year, we take this opportunity to thank them for everything that they have done for the students and the school, in particular, for making Maumee Valley a "nice" school to attend.



APPRECIATIONS

The student body of Maumee Valley Country Day School has greatly appreciated all that the following people have done for the school, both as teachers and as friends. We wish all of you the best of luck and prosperity and we know that you will bring the same joy in learning to your new students that you brought to us.

UPPER

SCHOOL

Every recollection of the place where one grew up brings a twinge of nostalgia. Others may be indifferent to it or think it an ordinary place, but to each one of us it is the best in the world . . .

David Ninneman

Alexander Solzhenitsyn

I left the woods for as good a reason as I went there. Perhaps it seemed to me that I had several more lives to live, and couldn't spare any more time for that one . . . The surface of the earth is soft and impressionable by the feet of men; and so with the paths which the mind travels. How worn and dusty, then, must be the high ways of the world, how deep the ruts of tradition and conformity! I didn't wish to take a cabin passage, but rather to go before the mast and on the deck of the world, for there I could best see the moonlight amid the mountains. I do not wish to go below now.

I learned this, . . . that if one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams, he will meet with a success unexpected in the common hours. He will put some things behind, will pass an invisible boundary; new, universal, and more liberal laws will begin to establish themselves around and within him; or the old laws be expanded and interperted in his favor in a more liberal sense, and he will live with the licence of a higher order of beings.

A Decade of Memories

After taking the entrance exam, I was asked if I wanted to skip second grade. I gleefully agreed to the jump and entered MV in grade three—a real whiz kid. The first day of school I caught the wrong bus going home. I didn't get there until after 6:00 p.m. My parents were as nervous and frightened as I had ever seen them. They had called the school, the police, and I think my dad was dialing JFK as I opened the front door. It was a rather inauspicious beginning.

In fifth grade I spent twenty minutes talking Jamie Black out of a fight ..... he would have killed me.

Sixth grade was the greatest, thanks to T. R. Deupree.

Grade eight—where it all began.
Chris Woodland.

With the freshman year began intense concentration on excellence in both academic and extra-academic endeavors and dedication to success as a Maumee Valley student.

As a sophomore I had my easiest year; things were falling into place. Sam McCoy masterfully taught biology.

The junior year was incredibly difficult. Work, work, My Lord, so much work! But I received some of the best teaching I will probably ever receive. Joe Coolidge and Chuck Lundholm have all my respect.

My senior year is one not soon to be forgotten. There were, without a doubt, some uneasy moments. Just the same, I thoroughly enjoyed my last year: walking through the halls for the last time; talking with the younger guys and knowing that someday they would have to cope with the feeling of leaving MV; admiring the campus and reminiscing about the days when I regarded seniors as "big guys," persons to be revered and, in time, emulated; sitting around with the faculty, sometimes joking, sometimes seriously discussing the future. Induction into The National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame and involvement in the Model United Nations were tremendous thrills, great honors.

You see, I grew up at Maumee Valley. I entered as a young boy and now leave as a young man. The school provided me with opportunities I would never have been afforded elsewhere. For this I am grateful. For the rest I am grateful, too. I was an MV student for ten years. I love the place.

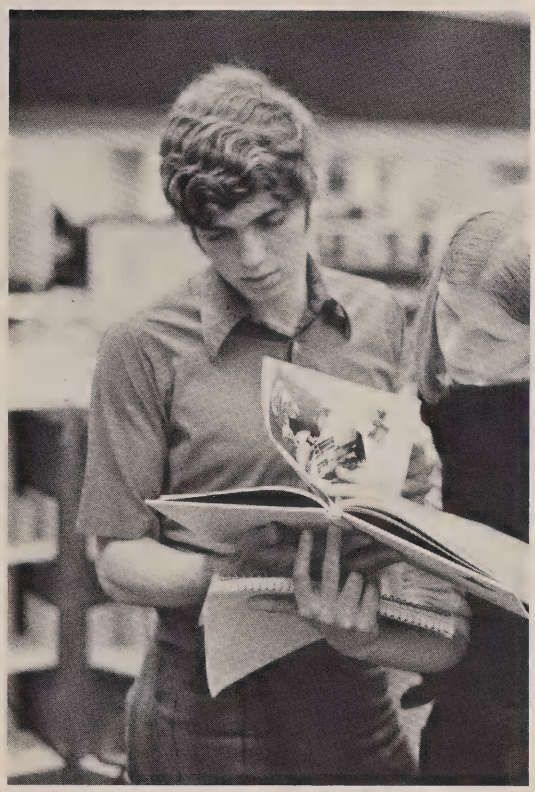
NOBODY IS PERFECT

Each one of us is a mixture of good qualities and some perhaps not-so-good qualities. In considering our fellow man we should remember his good qualities and realize that his faults only prove that he is, after all, a human being. We should refrain from making harsh judgement of a person just because he happens to be a dirty, rotten, no-good Son-of-a-Bitch!



June 17, 1744,

Commissioners from Maryland and Virginia negotiated a treaty with six Nations at Lancaster, Pennsylvania. The Indians were invited to send boys to William and Mary College. Next day they declined the offer as follows:

THE INDIANS' REFUSAL

We know that you highly esteem the kind of learning taught in those Colleges, and that the maintenance of our young men, while with you, would be very expensive to you. We are convinced, that you mean to do us good by your proposal; and we thank you heartily. But you, who are wise must know that different Nations have different conceptions of things; and you will therefore not take it amiss, if our ideas of this kind of education happen not to be the same with yours. We have had some experience of it. Several of our young people were formerly brought up at the Colleges of the Northern Provinces; they were instructed in all your Sciences; but, when they came back to us, they were bad runners; ignorant of every means of living in the woods . . . neither fit for Hunters, Warriors, nor Counsellors, they were totally good for nothing.

We are, however, not the less oblig'd by your kind offer, tho' we decline accepting it; and, to show our grateful sense of it; the gentlemen of Virginia will send us a dozen of their sons, we will take care of their education, instruct them in all we know, and make

LOVE NOT ME
Love not me for comely grace,
For my pleasing eye or face,
Nor for any outward part:
No, nor for a constant heart!
For these may fail or turn to ill:
So thou and I shall sever.
Keep therefore a true woman's eye,
And love me still, but know not why!
So hast thou the same reason still
To doat upon me ever.
Anonymous

Maybe I'm not supposed to exist.
Perhaps I'm only a figment of everyone's imagination.
Maybe I'm creating all this trouble for nothing,
because, I'm not really here.
After all,
aren't I treated like I don't really exist?
Don't people make me live in certain undesirable places?
Don't they shove me aside,
like a forgotten problem?
Don't people stereotype me;
make me think I'm something that I'm not?
And don't people continue to abuse me,
as if I'm not even aware of what they are doing to me?
But, then again,
when you think of existance in that light,
do any of us exist at all?
Maybe, just maybe,
we're all part of someone's vivid imagination.
After all,
we all chastise each other.
We do it to our relatives,
our friends,
our neighbors,
ourselves.
Therefore, if existance means humanity (as it indeed seems to)
maybe we don't really exist, any of us.
And someday soon,
someone will grow tired of watching us act like fools,
and blow us away.
Or, better yet,
maybe we'll just run down,
and blow ourselves out of nonexistance,
and into reality.

MAUMEE VALLEY'S NEW HEADMASTER

by Mr. John Griffin

It is difficult to know where to begin. Many questions have been asked by so many people and not all questions can or should be addressed in the first month of school.

Let me begin by saying that it is good to be home again after living seven years in Europe. America is still the land of opportunity. The opportunity to develop one's personal potential and the responsibility for doing so exists in America today as it did in the days of the pioneers to a greater extent than in any other country in the world.

The most frequent question asked relates to my first impression of Maumee Valley.Of the Students - You have every right to be justly proud of the young people. They are bright, sincere, clean-cut and beautifully innocent and unspoiled. They have tremendous potential for excellence. Since they are also very human, in many instances, they are working only as hard as is required. But as I say, this is very human and unfortunately true of most of us. I have the very distinct impression that the Upper School students, for example, are enjoying their busier schedules with the additional classes and mini courses. Busy people have less time to be bored.

Of the Facilities - Maumee Valley is situated on a large lovely campus, much of which remains to be developed if its full educational potential is to be exploited. The libraries and other instructional media (science laboratories, language laboratory, art, drama, music and physical education) all will require some expansion if Maumee Valley is to achieve the level of educational excellence that our young deserve and our society demands.

Of the Faculty - The faculty is the hardest working group of teachers I have ever seen. They are an extremely dedicated group of professionals who have developed an exceptionally fine student-teacher relationship. This relationship has created a very beautiful tone and atmosphere in the school and is so important to student motivation. The teachers genuinely care about the students.

MR. GRIFFIN

Of the Board - Being a member of a Board of Trustees has to be one of the most time-consuming, frustrating, public service, volunteer jobs in America. It is a job that has no end. I have the impression that the Board, in recent months, has given a great deal of thought to the basic educational philosophy of Maumee Valley and, as a result, has developed tremendous insight and resolved to make Maumee Valley a "Model of Educational Excellence" that will be an exciting and stimulating place, not only for students, but also for the entire community.

FACULTY ROAST

This year the Student Council presented a faculty roast. An enjoyable evening was devoted to student skits depicting their most distinguished teachers.

John Mason and Greg Shibley portray coaches Hoffman and Nuzum.

Don Palmer as the leader from The Hague—John Griffin.

Jamie Black demonstrates how Dave Walsh really acts on a camping trip.

George Chapman (Ben Blakney) proposes and retracts a marriage offer to Debbie Retterer (Peggy Rimer).

Lionell Miller and Jim Kurek relax as janitors.

Sam McCoy laughs violently at the skits (and himself).

Ernie Reyes (Mr. Lundholm) and Jim Singh (Dr. Russell) discuss matters of utmost importance during faculty meetings.

Mr. McCoy demonstrates acupuncture in Anatomy and Physiology class.
Assistant stands by with anesthetic in case experiment fails.
We need bodies—Take Anatomy and Physiology.

I wish you the sun wherever you are,
I wish you the peace of the evening star.
I wish you green meadows in which to walk,
And a dear friend's heart when you need to talk.
I wish you the roses and ribbons and boxes of candy,
I wish you love's sweet song and all that it can be.
But most of all, when your dreams are done,
And you awake in the morn, I wish you the sun.

A MOMENT FOR GOOD LIVING*

We want our children to grow up to be such persons that ill-fortune, if they meet with it, will bring out strength in them, and that good fortune will not trip them up, but make them winners.

MAUMEE, OHIO

*"A MOMENT FOR GOOD LIVING" has for years been a closing feature of our daily radio program.

Let's Talk Realistic...

You know that good cheap labor is hard to find. So why beat around the bush when it comes to that? SFI can get you a Menial Work Force (MWF) for wages you'll like, and in all areas of work. When it comes to universality, nothing takes the place of a good solid conglomerate. Our companies include:

PURPLE THUMB STAGECRAFT (theatre)
HAIRY EYEBALL CONSTRUCTION (carpentry & building supply)
FLIGHBYKNIGHT CEMENT CO. (masonry)
S & F PAINTING CO. (housepainting)
